Journal of Applied Philosophy aims to provide a focus for philosophical research with a direct bearing on areas of practical concern which are capable of being illuminated by the critical analytic approach characteristic of philosophy, and by direct consideration of questions of value. These areas include law, politics, economics, science policy, medicine and education. The journal aims to foster and promote philosophical work which is intended to make a constructive contribution to problems in these areas and to the identification, justification and discussion of values capable of transcending narrow or local interests. The views and opinions expressed by contributors to the Journal are theirs alone, and should not be taken to be those of the Editors, Editorial Board, the Society for Applied Philosophy, or the publishers.

Editorial correspondence, including manuscripts for submission, should be sent to the Editors, Stephen Clark and Brenda Almond, Journal of Applied Philosophy, Department of Philosophy, University of Liverpool, P.O. Box 147, Liverpool L69 3BX, UK. Articles may also be submitted over the computer network to AP01@UK.AC.LIVERPOOL. Prospective contributors in the United States should send their manuscripts to: Professor Bernard S. Baumrin, The Graduate School, City University of New York, 33 W. 42nd Street, New York, NY 10036, USA. Further details concerning the preparation and submission of articles can be found inside the back cover of each issue.
